

Building Toward Competence in Emergency Preparedness

May 4, 2006
Teleconference
1:00 pm - 2:00 pm CDT
Room _____

Description

Public health educators have been inundated with competency sets and charged with determining the ability of their learners to perform at expected levels.

This session will present concrete and practical strategies for linking competency achievement to training activities, identifying the level of skill developed in a training session, and provide participants an opportunity to practice using these “tools of the trade”.

Speaker

Mary Hoepfner, EdD, RN
Education Specialist
University of Minnesota Center for Public Health Preparedness

Moderator

Garry R. Greer
State Training and Distance Learning Coordinator
State Laboratory Institute
Massachusetts Department of Public Health

Sponsored by:

University of Minnesota Midwest Center for Life-Long-Learning in Public Health

University of Minnesota Center for Public Health Preparedness

National Laboratory Training Network

The National Laboratory Training Network is a training system sponsored by the Association of Public Health Laboratories (APHL) and the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC).